U.N. Orders Withdrawal Of Soviet Troops

General Assembly Creates Middle East Police Force

Small Powers To Form Special Unit

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Monday, Nov. 5 (AP) — The emergency U. N. Assembly today officially created a Middle East police force recruited from the small powers and commanded by the Palestine truce supervisor, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns.

The Assembly specifically excluded the big powers, United States, Soviet Union, Britain, France and Nationalist China, from contributing to the peace police force.

The Assembly vote was 57-0 with 19 abstaining.

The delegates acted shortly after U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and others appealed again to Britain, France, Israel and Egypt to accept the Assembly cease-fire.

Lodge pledged fullest cooperation by the United States with the new force. He said Washington would furnish transportation, supplies, an airlift and shipping for it.

New Zealand, Canada, Norway and Colombia were the first to offer contributions. Canada was reported to be considering at least a battalion but the others did not specify what they would do.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold recommended that the international police force proposed for Middle East duty should be recruited from small powers.

As the assembly approved Hammarskjold's plans, Egypt's delegate, Omar Loutfi, caused a stir by telling the assembly that "forces of aggression tried to land in Egypt today and they were engaged."

A member of the delegation said Loutfi had no information on the scale of the operation, having been told only British and French vessels were approaching the Suez Canal from the Red Sea and the Mediterranean and that a landing attempt had been made.

Hammarskjold reported to the assembly that the deadline for him to tell it about compliance with its Middle East cease-fire was nearly passed without result. He said he had received acknowledgements from Britain, France and Egypt but nothing from Israel.

Report

In his report on his study of the problem of an international force, Hammarskjold also recommended:

1. Burns be put to work immediately organizing his force without awaiting Hammarskjold's final report.

2. Burns should be authorized to draw recruits from the present Palestine truce organization and directly from small states.

Canada, Colombia and Nofway presented a resolution designed to make Hammarskjold's recommendations effective. The police force is intended specifically for duty in the Middle East, where Britain and France have said they would welcome U. N. supervision once they had completed their "police action" in the area.

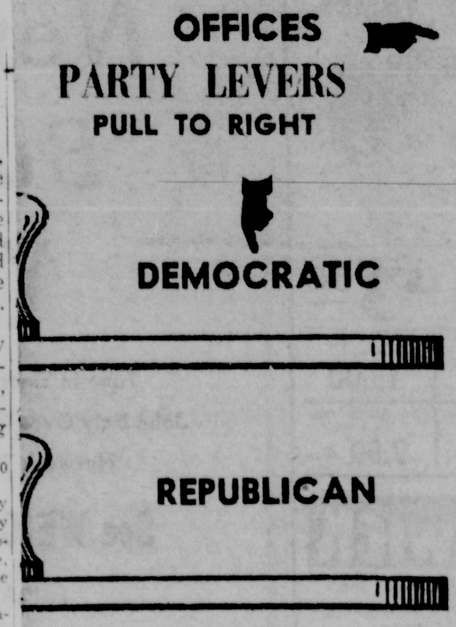

Hammarskjold made his report to the Assembly in accord with a resolution approved early Sunday calling for creation of a peace patrol to be sent to troubled spots anywhere in the world. This one is intended for service in the Middle East.

In addition to keeping officers of the big powers out of the force, Hammarskjold told the Assembly he hoped also the troops could be drawn from countries other than the five powers—the United States Britain, France, China and the Soviet Union.

The assembly also had asked Hammarskjold to check on compliance with its cease-fire resolution and report to it. Under that resolution, Hammarskjold sent messages to the foreign ministers of Britain, France, Egypt and Isfael appealing for them to comply with the cease fire.

See you at the polls!

THE WAY IT LOOKS — This is the ballot for tomorrow's general election. With nearly 20,000 persons in Monroe County registered and eligible to vote at the climax of this Presidential campaign, local officials expect a near-record if not record-breaking percentage of the electorate to cast votes. Major attention is focused on the presidential race — but one local State office, one district U. S. Congressional seat and the U. S. Senate seat are also at stake.

Assembly Approves U.S. Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—The General Assembly tonight condemned the Soviet Union for her military intervention in Hungary and ordered the immediate withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Hungarian territory.

The action came at an emergency meeting of the 76-nation body called into session after Russia had vetoed a similar resolution in an unprecedented predawn meeting of the Security Council.

The vote was 50-8. Fifteen countries abstained.

The Soviet bloc cast the only negative votes.

The approved resolution had been submitted by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., after consultations with President Eisenhower. Lodge denounced the Soviet Union for "wholesale brutality" in Hungary.

The U. S. delegate made an impassioned appeal for quick action to order Soviet troops out of Hungary and to stop Soviet interference in Hungarian affairs.

Hint

Lodge hinted that the United States might not recognize the new government of Janos Kadar. He called the Kadar government a "small group of straw men—a puppet clique" and referred repeatedly to Nagy as prime minister.

At the last minute, Lodge introduced a change in his formal proposal on the Hungarian situation to substitute the word "condemns" for "deplores" in referring to Russia's military action.

The meeting took place in an atmosphere of extreme tension, marching outside in United Nations Plaza and the President of the Assembly being forced to rap repeatedly for order.

Lodge and other delegates received prolonged applause as they denounced what several called the "duplicity" of the Soviet moves. The galleries were filled to capacity with additional crowds seeking admission.

The U. S. resolution won quick support. It not only called for an end of the fighting and a withdrawal of Soviet troops, but proposed a special U. N. mission to investigate the situation and an observation group to keep an eye on developments inside Hungary.

Spanish Delegate Jose Felix de Lequerica suggested that the U. N. might consider sending an international police force into Hungary, like the one now under consideration for the Middle East.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson denounced Russia's efforts to minimize the Hungarian developments in comparison with the British-French attacks on Egypt.

Pearson said Britain and France had promised to withdraw from Egypt as soon as an international force can be created to police the Suez Canal area and keep Israel and the Egyptians apart. He said: "Will the Soviet Union give us a similar promise?"

The Canadian representative suggested the Soviet Union could prove its good faith by agreeing to the establishment of U. N. observation machinery in Hungary.

Pearson concluded:

"We owe it to the people of Hungary, we owe it to the United Nations, we owe it to freedom to condemn in the strongest terms what we know has happened and to investigate what is happening now. Perhaps, at this moment, we cannot do more but surely we cannot do less."

Britain's Sir Person Dixon said the British legation in Budapest had reported that leaders of the Nagy government seem to be in the hands of the Russians. All information, he said, indicates that the Soviet attack was intended to throw out Nagy and set up "a puppet regime."

Dixon called for an immediate U.N. cease-fire order.

At the same time, he said he would give his full support to the U.S. resolution.

The U. S. move came as Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev protested vigorously against any U. N. discussion of the Hungarian question. Sobolev said U. N. intervention would amount to meddling in the internal affairs of Hungary.

Invasion Of Egypt Begins

LONDON, Monday, Nov. 4 (AP)—The British-French invasion force embarked Sunday at Cyprus—primed to seize the Suez Canal zone from Egypt.

Word that it has landed is expected momentarily.

Cairo communiques claimed the invasion attempt had started and a French warship and a British destroyer had been sunk.

News Dispatches from the Egyptian capital Sunday night told only of more air raids east and north of the city.

The British and French said they had no news of any vessel of either country being sunk. The British added: "It seems unlikely."

British - French headquarters said the Egyptian air force has ceased to exist.

A communique issued on Cyprus said Allied planes roamed the length and breadth of Egypt without air opposition. It gave no word of troop landings, reporting only air bombing of shore batteries on Agami island off Alexandria and attacks on Egyptian motor torpedo boats in the same area.

London

The Foreign Office in London announced a British frigate had shot down an Israeli plane interferring with a British patrol in the Gulf of Suez.

The Soviet Union protested to Britain and France that closing the eastern Mediterranean to commercial shipping—an invasion preliminary—amounted to aggression against other states as well as Egypt.

Soviet notes accused the British and French of violating freedom of the seas and the 1888 Constantinople Convention guaranteeing passage through the Suez Canal in both peace and war.

Damascus radio said Egypt's President Nasser had told U.S. Ambassador Raymond Hare that Cairo will be defended "even if it becomes another Stalingrad."

In London, wildly demonstrating Laborites shouting "no war" marched on Prime Minister Edens residence at 10 Downing Street. Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell asked Conservatives in Parliament to help him overthrow the Eden government which calls the move against Egypt a police action.

"Make no mistake about it, this is war," Gaitskell declared.

Tension

Tension increased in Israel's eastern frontier with reports that Saudi Arabian troops were marching into Jordan. Syrian and Iraqi troops already have moved into Jordan.

Unofficial reports said Israeli amphibious forces have captured the Tiran islands guarding the Gulf of Aqaba, allowing Israeli ships unchallenged access to the gulf.

Egyptian headquarters said the French ship sunk was a cruiser. The Egyptian Middle East News Agency said the ship carried 600 men in naval commando units and that guns from Egyptian ships sent it to the bottom off the Mediterranean coast half-way between Port Said and Alexandria early Sunday.

The British destroyer was sunk in the Red Sea, the Egyptians said.

Imre Nagy

Soviet Might Smashes Into Hungary

VIENNA, Nov. 4 (AP)—Soviet military might apparently smashed Hungary's freedom movement today. The Russians installed a Communist government patterned after the new Polish regime.

Communist radio stations asserted the anti-Communist revolt was crushed under the weight of Soviet tanks, guns and planes.

They trumpeted that the government of Premier Imre Nagy, the nationalistic Communist, "fell apart and has ceased to exist."

But the Communists acknowledged Hungarians still fought Russians in the rubble of Budapest. The Hungarian capital was caught in a vise of armor by the sudden Soviet onslaught launched before dawn Sunday.

Rebel radios still operated furtively as Soviet columns sought them out. The radios called for Western help.

"We will hold out to our last drop of blood," the rebels vowed.

Regime

Budapest radio, which carried Nagy's frantic early morning appeals for world help, was in the hands of the Soviet-supported regime.

The radio said the new regime had repudiated Nagy's appeal to the U. N. to guarantee a free and neutral Hungary.

The appeal, said Budapest radio, "has no legal force and cannot be regarded as an appeal sent by Hungary as a state."

Moscow and other Communist radios denounced Nagy as a tool of "reactionary enemies of Hungary." They boasted Nagy was a prisoner. The rebels said he was safe.

The radio pleaded with workers to go back to their jobs.

Candidate Backs Ike

SECAUCUS, N. J., Nov. 4 (AP)—Henry Krajewski, himself a candidate for the Presidency, today endorsed the reelection of President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower Makes Appeal To Bulganin

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP) — President Eisenhower urgently appealed to Premier Bulganin today to pull Soviet troops out of Hungary and accept political independence for that battered country.

At the same time, in emergency talks at the White House, Eisenhower began shaping policy on the critical question of support for any United Nations police action in the Middle East—a question which raises the issue of use of U.S. forces.

The most likely possibility seen in diplomatic and official quarters here is that the United States probably would have to get behind any U.N. police operation with naval transportation and support, but without employing American troops.

The dominant feeling among top officials here, it was learned, is that the U.N. in taking such an action in a small nation like Egypt should draw troops from other small nations and thus avoid any question of a big power moving in.

Message

Eisenhower sent his message to Bulganin after he met in an extraordinary Sunday conference this afternoon with the acting secretary of state, Herbert Hoover Jr. and Allen Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency and brother of the ailing secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

In a statement Eisenhower said the White House conference discussed "the ways and means available to the United States which would result in:"

"1. Withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary.

"2. Achieve for Hungary its own right of self-determination in the choice of its own government."

The President then said he had sent "an urgent message to Premier Bulganin on these points."

Seldom, if ever in this nation's history has the President had to face such delicate and dangerous problems two days before a national election as Eisenhower was confronted with in the world situation this weekend.

Officials agreed that while the administration had to work on every possible line of action to try and save maximum freedom for the people of Hungary, there were very few "ways and means available" to the President to do something.

Officials said it would not undo the huge damage, as they see it, already caused by the British-French intervention.

GOP Leads In Money Poll

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Democratic-led Senate Elections subcommittee reported tonight, less than 36 hours before the national election, that the Republicans went into the closing days of the campaign with more than twice as much money as the Democrats.

This was one of the principal findings in an "interim report" on campaign finances, prepared by the subcommittee staff and released by Chairman Carlton R. Sickles (D-Tenn).

Surgery Shows Dulles Stricken With Cancer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Emergency surgery on Secretary of State Dulles revealed that the 68-year-old Cabinet member was stricken with an interestinal cancer, the State Department said today.

Press officer Lincoln White disclosed this to newsmen at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital, where Dulles was reported in "good" condition after yesterday's 2½-hour operation.

White declined to say whether Dulles had been informed of the malignancy, discovered in preliminary studies of a portion of the large intestine removed during the operation.

The State Department aide emphasized that doctors had "no evidence whatsoever" that the cancer had extended to other organs in the abdomen.

"A complete removal of the diseased tissue was accomplished," White said in a statement handed to newsmen in midafternoon.

Doctors held to their prediction of yesterday that the secretary should be able to return to his State Department desk in about six weeks.

Early Morning

Dulles was stricken in the early morning hours yesterday, just as grave new foreign policy problems were cropping up in Central Europe and the Middle East.

In a statement put out at the White House, Eisenhower took note of the diplomatic burden which Dulles had been shouldering and said:

"... Mr. Dulles has devoted himself unselfishly to his complicated and strenuous duties—even, as it is now apparent, at the risk of his own health."

In the statement, released almost simultaneously with White's announcement, Eisenhower said he was sure all Americans and freedom-loving peoples everywhere join in wishing Dulles "a speedy and full recovery."

Dulles' ailment was named medically as "adenocarcinoma"—a malignant tumor. This was discovered by what were described as "preliminary gross and microscopical examination" of the tissue removed by surgery.

White said the medical judgment that the disease was confined to the removed tissue was based on "thorough exploration" of the abdomen at the time of surgery.

John Foster Dulles

Stevenson Urges Swift Steps By Ike

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill., Nov. 4 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson today urged President Eisenhower to take swift steps toward flying United Nations observers into Hungary and other Soviet satellites.

Such action by the U. N. might aid Hungary, he said, and "might help to save Poland from a fate similar to Hungary's."

The Democratic presidential nominee asked the President to request the U. N. to put the plan into effect as soon as possible, "if you think well of it."

Stevenson's telegram to Eisenhower—his Republican opponent in Tuesday's election—was made public by Stevenson's news secretary, Clayton Fritchey.

It related that Stevenson had followed developments through the Russia's attack on rebellious Hungary.

Shocked

"I am shocked and gravely disturbed over this brutal, treacherous attack," the Democratic candidate informed the President.

Stevenson's message set forth his plan this way:

"Premier Nagy of Hungary has already appealed to the United Nations for help. May I therefore recommend that you at once set in motion machinery to activate the Peace Observation Commission which was created in 1950 under the uniting-for-peace resolution.

"This would make it possible for the United Nations to mobilize large teams of official observers and fly them into Hungary, or at least the still-free parts of Hungary, and also into other satellite nations, such as Poland, that might welcome or consent to their presence.

"I believe that this step, expressing through action the will of the United Nations, might help to save Poland from a fate similar to Hungary's. These U. N. teams, representing the whole world, not only should be a restraining influence, but their presence in Hungary, if they can be gotten in, might also benefit that suffering country."

Stevenson said peace commission observers could report developments in areas of international tension.

Barr Predicts Victory

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4 (AP)—Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, has predicted a state victory for Adlai Stevenson in Tuesday's election by as much as 292,000 votes.

12-20 Red Divisions May Be In Action

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Responsible American officials estimated tonight Russia has thrown from 12 to 20 Red army divisions into the brutal military assault on Hungarian anti-Communists.

They based these estimates on confidential intelligence reports reaching them since the Soviets began moving reinforcements from Russia into the riot-scarred country.

The movement of these new Soviet forces into Hungary, they said, apparently was part of a Kremlin decision to teach the Hungarians a lesson on how far they could go in challenging Communist rule.

The American officials said the Russian military onslaught was showing signs of becoming one of the most savage ever launched to maintain control of a captive country.

Officials

President Eisenhower's appeal today to Premier Bulganin for an end to the savage crackdown, they said, probably will be ignored by the Kremlin until every vestige of opposition has been crushed.

Officials here saw no chance the Hungarians could turn back the vastly superior Red army forces, now reported to total three to four times the 50,000 Soviet troops who initially battled the Hungarian rebels two weeks ago.

A massacre is in prospect, they said.

Survey Poll Favors Ike In Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP) — The New York Times said today its survey of voter sentiment in the 48 states indicates the re-election Tuesday of the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket by a "comfortable" majority. It forecast continued Democratic control of Congress.

The Times said it "seemed doubtful," however, that President Eisenhower's popular vote plurality would be as great as the 6,621,642-vote margin he rang up in 1952 against Adlai E. Stevenson.

Barring a landslide for Eisenhower, the Times said, the Democrats should retain or possibly increase their margin of control in both the House and Senate.

The Times, which supports Eisenhower editorially, made its prediction on the election's outcome on the basis of surveys conducted by Times correspondents in every state.

72 Rebels Killed

A REPORT FOR THE THOUGHTFUL VOTER
TO CONSIDER IN SUPPORT OF HANFORD L. CLEVELAND
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

(1) In the legislature he will act with nothing on his mind but good legislation. He has no goods or other services to offer the State of Pennsylvania.

(2) He will be strong for economy in government — less spending, more efficiency.

(3) He will represent YOU — NOT THOSE IN THE STAR CHAMBER NOR PRESSURE GROUPS.

(4) He will not be intimidated by a young governor whose philosophy seems to be Tax and Tax — Spend and Spend.

(5) He will support legislation that encourages industry and commerce within our state — which means more jobs — and stop the present trend away from us into adjoining states. He will support progressive farm porgrams.

(6) He will work against the Leader Wage & Income Tax:
..... It's 1% of all a worker earns
..... It's 2% on income of lawyers, doctors, dentists, self-employed nurses and operators of small businesses.
..... It's 4% of your income from your savings, rents, investments in bonds.
..... It's 5% on dividends from stocks
..... It's 6% on increase in property values — homes and farms alike.

A Republican Senate blocked this Leader tax in 1955. If he gets a Democrat majority in Senate and House in 1957 we will all be soft pickings for the Leader Tax.

New York City Woman Dies As Result Of Fall From Horse

Accident Occurs Near Analomink

INJURIES SUFFERED in a fall while horseback riding Saturday proved fatal to a middle-aged New York City woman.

Mrs. Gertrude Saunders, 49, of 38 W. Tenth St., New York City, suffered a broken neck and a possible skull fracture, Dr. Charles H. Rushmore, Monroe County coroner, disclosed last night.

Dr. Rushmore said the victim, a guest at a Pocono resort, was horseback riding with her husband and some other people near Analomink about 11:15 a. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Saunders fell from the saddle and struck her head against a post, when another horse bumped into the one which she was riding, the coroner said.

She was rushed to the hospital by ambulance and died about a half-hour after the accident occurred. Dr. Rushmore attributed her death to the broken neck.

Born in Manchester, England, Mrs. Saunders was the daughter of the late Robert and Hannah Daniels Bickerstaffe. She is survived by her husband, Allen, and three brothers.

Local arrangements were made by the William H. Clark funeral home.

Canadensis Man Heads Association

MOUNT POCONO—Charles Kemmel, Canadensis, was named new president of the Keystone State Fire Chiefs Association Saturday night.

The group held its convention at Mount Airy Lodge near here. About 350 members attended the meeting, hotel officials said. The association's women's auxiliary met at the hotel while men's meetings were conducted in the Mount Pocono Borough Fire Hall.

Ernest Bisbing, Mount Pocono chief, was host to the convention and the local company was the host company. The meeting was brought to a close at 7 p. m. Saturday with a banquet honoring all chiefs.

Main Speaker

Jack Anderson, Eastern Area Civil Defense director, was the main speaker. Anderson discussed the Federal government's "matching fund" system and explained how fire companies may apply for and use such funds.

Movies were shown during the afternoon to both groups by E. C. Pyle, district forester. Other local men attending the meetings included James H. Oakey, Tobyhanna fire department chief.

The new president of the association has been an active member in it for nearly 20 years. Kemmel was chief of the Swarthmore fire company in 1940-41. During the Second World War he served as fire protection coordinator at a large shipping yard and for several years he was fire marshal in Delaware County. He came to Canadensis in 1947.

McCool Relates Events Leading To Loss Of Highway Position At Republican Party Rally

BRODHEADSVILLE — Events leading up to his removal as District Five equipment engineer for the State Highway Department were reviewed by Tom McCool Jr., who described himself as a "good and loyal Democrat," at a Republican rally held Saturday night at Chestnuthill High School.

McCool prefaced his remarks by saying he wanted to "bring to your notice things into which you should inquire, to learn more about, to become informed upon before you cast your vote in this election."

He concluded his talk by announcing publicly his support for Hanford L. Cleveland, Republican candidate for General Assembly.

Explanation

In explaining his dismissal from the state job, McCool said the written reason given was that "I refused to accept a higher position in Harrisburg. Strange that I should be forcedly promoted to a job entirely out of line with my qualifications.

"Coincident with my removal (either away from the local scene to Harrisburg or my discharge) was the change and installation of a new superintendent of highways for Monroe County. I would hate to think that my removal was a convenient one. For, as many of my friends know, I cannot be pushed and I cannot be bought," said McCool.

"My efforts to serve Monroe County have been somewhat maligned by persons who were not as interested in the good of the Commonwealth as I," the former state employe declared. He then pointed out his record of accomplishments since taking over the job and of the efficiency under which his department operated.

Referring to the flood clean-up, McCool spoke of using as much rented equipment as could possibly be utilized "without regard to who owned it, or who knew who, or any other personal matters."

He added: "I did steadfastly refuse to authorize the useless expenditure of money to pay for rented equipment when it was not needed or when it would be paid for by your and my money to stand idle.

"For after all we are the Commonwealth, you and I and every citizen. Regardless of how you balance budgets, juggle the books or make speeches of 'something for nothing from the Government,' it is still you and I and every other citizen who pays the bill."

McCool charged there is a "distinct lack of leadership" in the Democratic Party in Monroe County, and a lack of "mutual cooperation and coordination with which the leaders weld their party into a solid organization.

Feeling

"There are those who feel that the patronage of a victorious party was mis-handled and ill-distributed. The use of force, threats, jeopardy of livelihood, and abuse most certainly do not bring a party together in mutual accord and do not result in the selection of the best candidates possible," he added.

Cleveland also spoke in behalf of his own candidacy. He charged that the abatement of taxes to flood victims is not a state matter but was placed wholly in the hands of the county, borough, township or school board involved. "Whether they will or not is entirely up to them, not to my opponent," he said.

Other speakers were George Berg, who listed his qualifications for representative in Congress; Sen. William Z. Scott, speaking in behalf of the entire Republican ticket, and M. F. Crowe, who recited accomplishments in Monroe County under previous Republican state administrations.

The Chestnuthill High School Band provided music for the rally, which was attended by a large audience.

Car Taken From Garage

A DELAWARE Water Gap resident is being held by Stroudsburg police for further questioning relative to the theft of a 1956 automobile from the Penn-Stroud Garage early yesterday morning.

Police of both boroughs figured in the apprehension of the suspect who admits being in the car, but denies being the driver.

The thief slightly damaged the vehicle as he gave police a chase through the twin boroughs about 2:30 a. m. yesterday.

Patrolmen Harold Larison and Samuel Van Auken, East Stroudsburg, followed the car up Route 209 where the thief abandoned the vehicle and headed into a wooded area off the airport road.

The suspect was picked up yesterday afternoon in Delaware Water Gap by East Stroudsburg Police Chief Travis Seese and Stroudsburg Patrolman William Dwyer.

Mr. Rush was a member of St. Ann's R. C. Church, Canadensis, and a former member of the Pocono Mountains Rotary Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, three sons, Richard, Dale and Jonathan, all at home, and one sister, Mrs. Vincent Dooley, Chatham, N. J.

Requiem high mass will be celebrated Wednesday at 9 a.m. in St. Ann's Church. Rev. William Cusick will officiate and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Philadelphia. Friends may call at the William H. Clark Funeral Home, Stroudsburg, Tuesday after 7 p.m. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m.

Presidential Campaigns Reviewed On Eve Of Tomorrow's Election

In another 24 hours, Monroe Countians will be trekking to the polls (in large numbers, we hope) to decide their choices for president, vice president, United States senator, member of the General Assembly and several state offices.

More than 62,000,000 Americans will exercise their right to cast ballots for the top elective office of the land. How many more, or conceivably less, than 62,000,000 will depend upon how seriously American citizens take the responsibility and privilege the free, secret ballot gives them.

There has been lots of smoke, but not too much fire of battle between the two major parties since the close of their presidential nominating conventions last Sumruer. In many respects, the two parties are pretty well agreed on the course of action this country should take in the next four years, their main difference being in how the issues should be handled.

No real differences of opinion have been evident, for example, on such matters as civil rights, welfare legislation, aid to education, labor law revision and a host of other subjects. This is not to say they see eye-to-eye with each other, but rather that their objectives are along pretty much the same lines.

Most vulnerable spot for the Republicans, on the other hand, has been in the great farm belt, normally Republican but of recent years expressing a greater interest in the Democratic plan for high crop supports because of sagging farm prices. The GOP has opposed these expensive programs, contending they build up price-killing surpluses without relieving the farm problem in the long run, and has adopted programs calling for the soil bank and flexible crop supports.

Adlai Stevenson has hammered away at the "Cadillac Cabinet" of the Eisenhower administration, claiming it favors big business at the expense of small business and the President has retorted by pointing to record high employment figures, higher take-home pay than ever before for all classes of workers and the greatest stablization of prices in several decades.

Mr. Stevenson struck upon two controversial topics about midway in the campaign when he called for the United States to take the first step in ending H-bomb tests and also offered a proposal for substituting the compulsory military draft with a paid professional army.

For the most part, Mr. Stevenson's draft idea fell on deaf ears with most people feeling that an end to the military draft would seriously weaken American defenses against foreign aggression and would invite war.

His H-bomb proposal was more generally accepted, although it was soundly criticized by Republicans and some Democrats, among them Harry S. Truman and Bernard Baruch. Scientists were quick to take sides on the issue. Some supported the Democratic nominee with the assertion that continued testing of H-bombs would endanger the health of the world through fallout, or radiation.

Another group of scientists contradicted the Stevenson claim and supported Mr. Eisenhower's stand that the testing of atomic weapons is an indispensable part of our defense program. The President stuck to his guns that the only fool-proof way to attain world disarmament is through his "open skies" inspection plan which Russia has rejected several times.

Both candidates were forced to change their campaign plans last week when Israel invaded Egypt and won support from two of our allies, Britain and France.

The Republicans had been stressing a theme of "peace, progress and prosperity." Outbreak of war in the Middle East, although it did not involve us directly, caused the Republicans to soft-pedal the peace angle and to emphasize instead the leading role Mr. Eisenhower was attempting to take in bringing about a cessation of hostilities through the United Nations.

The President pledged his efforts to keeping the U.S. from becoming involved in the fighting.

Mr. Stevenson charged that the Eisenhower-Dulles administration "has not told the truth" about conditions in the Middle East and declared that its "quick-change foreign policy" and "blunders" have arrayed us "with Soviet Russia and the dictator of Egypt against the democracies of Britain, France and Israel."

Coming late in the campaign on the heels of rebellions against Russian Communist leaders in Poland and Hungary, the Middle Eastern crisis leaves two sections of the world in such confused state that political experts are undecided what effect, if any, the situation will have on the presidential campaign.

Several imponderables that even the pollsters are not able to gauge accurately must wait the election before the true picture unfolds.

One is: what effect will AFL-CIO leadership's support of the Democratic ticket have on the rank-and-file membership?

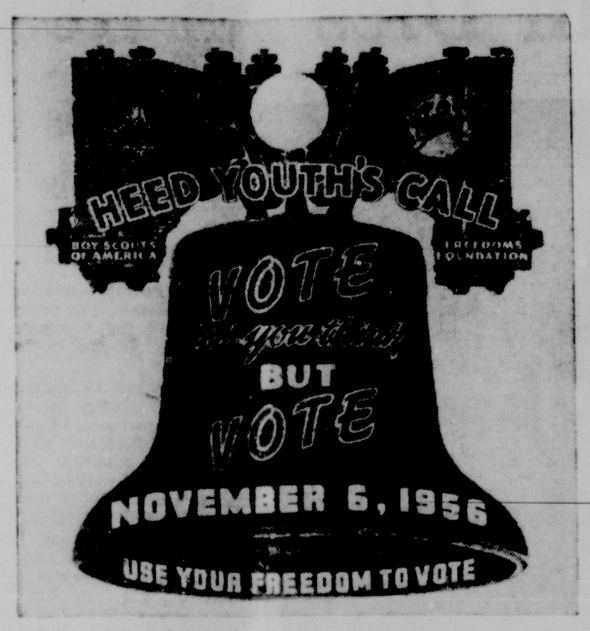

Also, is the President's health still an issue with the average voter?

Another involves the candidates themselves. Democrats acknowledged Mr. Eisenhower's great popularity and since early in the campaign have concentrated much of their attacks on the President's running mate, Richard Nixon. This question the voters will decide: has Mr. Nixon's conduct been such that it deserves these criticisms, or is he merely the victim of a "smear" campaign?

There are other question marks that will be answered tomorrow. Not the least of these is apart from the presidential election itself, but nevertheless closely tied in with the program the winning candidate seeks to fashion for the next four years.

It deals with control of the two houses of Congress. If Mr. Eisenhower is re-elected, will he have a Republican or a Democratic Congress? That's the big question. It's generally conceded that if Mr. Stevenson is the winner, the Democrats will also control both houses.

The electorate, polls nothwithstanding, will determine all the answers. Every vote counts, so make it a point to visit your polling place early. Don't sit this election out.

The Daily Record,

Dear Editor:

Regarding the Democratic appeal for votes in this morning's paper which accused the Republicans of "Rebellion in Poland," "War in Hungary," "Israel Invades Egypt," etc. This advertisement disturbed me so much that I wish to voice my opinion.

I am an American by choice, a most precious choice! I was born in Poland during the Czarist regime and remember some of the longing for freedom the Polish people had at that time.

After World War I, Poland regained her freedom and heroically built life anew from the never dying spark of yearning for freedom.

In 1939 you will remember Poland was savagely and ruthlessly invaded by her German neighbor. I spent sleepless nights as did many American Poles while listening to the reports of the brutal attack and machine-gunning of people in the streets. We realized the cruel horrors imposed on the peoples of Poland where we were born.

Yes, I am a foreigner by birth but loyal to and loving the United States and cannot help but have tender feeling for the people of Poland.

It was not enough to bring suffering and devastation by one intruder from the West; another savage beast from the East came for the spoils.

We must remember this happened during the Democratic administration. When World II ceased, the Poles thought and hoped to be a free nation.

Well, what happened? They were enslaved by Russia and that was after the Yalta agreements or conference. Weak explanation is given even today: "The Russians did not keep their promise."

In reading letters from the Polish refugees, also talking with those who were fortunate to land on our shores, their sad comments are these:

"We were sold out to Stalin and some day our children will have to spill their blood again for freedom."

Again, under whose administration did all this happen?

Is it wrong for Poland to rebel and Hungary to fight for freedom, and what about the other enslaved nations?

Does this accusation of the Republicans for the rebellion in Poland and fight for freedom in Hungary mean that our Democratic friends want them enslaved?

As for me, a Pole, a citizen of the United States and a Republican, I thank God that the people are rising and that the love of freedom is not dead and that President Eisenhower encourages the love of freedom by his dignity, integrity and devotion to mankind.

May God bless him and give him strength in leading our country in the cause of true freedom and a just peace for all mankind in the world.

There are precious few leaders like him and the least that we can do is support him with our prayers and good wishes.

Sincerely,
Genevieve B. Elwell

Dear Sir:

An advertisement appearing in The Daily Record published Friday, Nov. 2, 1956 sponsored by a group of men who have chosen collectively to call themselves the Eastern Pocono Business Men's Alliance, provoked numerous phone calls and visits to me, William J. Altier, president of Eastern Pocono Resort Association.

The ire the advertisement aroused in many of our members' minds prompted them to insist a clarification of the Eastern Pocono Resort Association's status be published so there might be no misunderstanding as to the position the Eastern Pocono Resort Association has taken on the issue of the so-called by-pass or thruway as it is sometimes called.

Meetings of our association held in December of 1955 and March of 1956 resulted in a unanimous vote of all members present voting in favor of the presently planned by-pass.

At the request of a few of our members a general meeting was called on Oct. 23, 1956 so that Mr. A. M. Trogner might present opposition to By-Pass A as mapped.

After presentation and discussion by members, it was voted unanimously to remain steadfast in favor of the by-pass as recommended to the State Highway Department by the firm of consulting engineers — unless some more feasible route of construction could be offered.

I urge your readers not to misconstrue anything as coming from our organization unless it is under the heading of Eastern Pocono Resort Association.

Respectfully,
William J. Altier, Pres.
Eastern Pocono Resort Association

Experimental Plane Lost; Was Fastest Jet Fighter

Washington, Nov. 4: The Air Force has lost another extremely important experimental plane — the XF-107.

It's a prototype of what is designed to be the fastest jet fighter in the world, with operational speeds up to 1,500 miles per hour. This is approximately double the speed of the newest-model interceptors with which the Air Force is equipping its ace squadrons.

The XF-107 cracked up while landing after a test flight at Edwards Airbase, near Baker, Cal.

Fortunately, the pilot escaped alive. But the experimental craft was lost.

However, two similar prototypes are available. Built by North American Aviation Co., at Englewood, Calif., they will enable the unbroken continuance of vital tests and thus prevent delay of the development of this essential advanced-type fighter.

That is what occurred when the X-2 disintegrated in the air after attaining a record speed of 2,100 mph in a test flight in late September.

Not only was its heroic pilot, Captain Milburn Apt, killed but further experiments were abruptly halted. The X-2 was the only rocket plane in existence. Months will elapse before another prototype is completed and these tests can be resumed.

The crucial importance of the two additional XF-107 prototypes is that this fighter is the fastest the Air Force has that can take off and land under its own power.

It can stay aloft for an unpublishable number of hours.

The X-2, which was launched by being dropped from a bomber at a great height, had a flight duration of "several minutes."

Note: World War II Ace John T. Godfrey, Me., is arguing with the Air Force over the exact number of his "kills." He claims the total is 36, while the Air Force officially credits him with 28.9.

Weather Forecast — Hydrogen bomb tests can drastically affect the world's climate. Far reaching changes in temperatures would result if numerous underground thermonuclear explosions are conducted over a period of years.

At present, there are not more than four such underground tests annually by the U. S. and Russia.

This is the view of Atomic Energy Commissioner John von Neumann.

The noted former Columbia University physicist expressed it in a report on the problems of "dust" created by large-size H-bomb tests near or under the ground. Following are publishable highlights:

"One of the overall effects from thermonuclear tests is the raising of "dust", declared the AEC member. "This is not a serious problem now, but it would become one. What is of utmost importance is that H-bombs can pull a pall of dust over the earth, excluding sunlight, and thereby causing wide-spread cooling effect. This is a known phenomena.

"A large volcano, Krakatoa, erupted in the 19th century and reduced the solar heat of the earth by between five and ten percent over three years. It has ben calculated that one eruption of this kind annually for a period of years would bring back the conditions of the last ice age. We believe the amount of material thrown up by Krakatoa was about 100 times that of the largest H-bomb explosion so far.

"If one wanted systematically to affect the climate, that could be done by exploding large H-bombs underground. This would have much greater effect on weather conditions. There would also be other effects. Other matters would be greatly affected, too."

Note: Following an extended study, Atomic Commission scientists have reported there are "relatively fewer tornadoes" in areas where radioactive fallout is considerable than where it is light.

Dear Editor:

Tom Payne once said, "These are the times that try men's souls". I wonder if that patriot was not perhaps thinking of the future rather than present.

Surely as a citizen of Monroe County, listening to many orators, who are now in the process of climbing out every available political limb, these are the times that try men's souls.

The ex-Senator Montgomery Crowe in one of his recent "Out on the Limb" speeches, and I use the term speech loosely, talks about how oppressed the people of Monroe Co. have been under the leadership of our very capable representative. His insinuations are that his candidate will not do certain things. I might suggest that The Democratic Representative will not be representing any insurance firms in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Speaking of insinuations, it seems to me that Mr. Crowe has made insinuations about another popular Democrat in these parts, Rep. Francis Walter from the local congressional district to Washington. Haven't heard much on that lately have we?

The reserves have assisted the borough police on countless occasions, but the most recent praise was the result of the fine job the reserves turned in during Thursday's Halloween Parade.

Monroe County Police Reserve unit has turned in fine jobs in Mount Pocono and other parts of the county.

Although members of the unit receive no pay for their troubles, they certainly are rich in thanks.

George Sokolsky Says...

U.S. Quarrel With Britain And France Is In Method Of Thwarting Nasser Objectives

What Great Britain and France faced as a result of the emergence of Nasser as the Egyptian Hitler was national suicide. The United States faced nothing more grave than the nationalization of American oil companies in Arabian countries. Soviet Russia faced the possibility of establishing itself in the Mediterranean, India faced the possibility of increasing its scope as the leader of the Bandung nations.

It has been known since July when Nasser seized the Universal Suez Canal Company that Great Britain and France would have to do something specific and dramatic to save their place among nations. Under the pressure of American anti-colonialism, both were losing their place in the world, whereas Soviet Russia was emerging as the principal power on Earth.

Nasser had dedicated himself to the establishment of an Arabic Empire with himself as its head and had formed an alliance with Soviet Russia. Did the West have to wait until Nasser had achieved his goal? Was Cairo to be another Munich? Was Eden to be a second Chamberlain?

During the Suez Canal conferences, the British and the French followed John Foster Dulles' schemes for a Users' Association only to discover that what Dulles really meant was the development of a mechanism for further negotiations with Nasser.

It is true that when their scheme was hatched to do by force what could no longer be achieved by talk, they did not only not consult their ally, the United States, but they gave the United States no information. But that is no reason why we should not have been informed. After all, much of what developed had to be overt and this country spends hundreds of millions on an espionage organization to get at covert information. However, the truth undoubtedly is, as the President said, that we knew nothing of the joint action of Israel, France and Great Britain against Nasser.

It is startling to discover that our principal allies, Great Britain and France, do not trust the government of the United States with their plans not only because their plans differ from ours but also because they have found that somehow we always support the underdog even if he is as rabid as Nasser.

It is not easily forgotten that Holland lost her East Indian Empire, France, her North African Empire, Great Britain, India and Suez because of American policies pursued since the time of Woodrow Wilson. We are not, for the moment, discussing what is right or wrong but that the United States has frightened these countries by a doctrinaire pacifism and a tendency to appease Soviet Russia. Nehru of India and now Nasser of Egypt.

The United States had its fill in the Korean War and its attitude is naturally different from that of Great Britain and France. Nevertheless, no one can or does question that these have been Naser's objectives:

1. To establish an Arabic Empire with himself as its head extending over the whole of North Africa and including Jordan, Syria and eventually Iraq and Saudi Arabia;

2. To eliminate all Western influences from Africa and Arabic Asia;

3. To exterminate Israel;

4. To maintain an alliance with Soviet Russia aimed at the West;

5. Absolute control of the Suez Canal;

6. Elimination of the West from Arabian oil fields.

The West includes the United States. It is the American assumption that Nasser can be destroyed by economic pressures. It is the British and French assumption that he cannot be. If the British and French are correct, it would be too late to prove that the Americans are incorrect, because by that time, Nasser would be so strong that nothing counld budge him. Therefore the British and the French acted before action became futile.

Their objectives are:

1. To prevent the Soviet Universal State from expanding into Arabic countries until at least Egypt and possibly some other Arabian countries become part of the Soviet bloc;

2. To safeguard Middle Eastern oil upon which Western Europe has become dependent;

3. To preserve the Suez Canal for the use of all nations in accordance with the 1888 Convention;

4. To preserve Israel as a nation in accordance with the decision of the United Nations establishing that country.

This program undoubtedly the United States supports; the quarrel is over method. The method employed before Israel, Great Britain and France hit out at Nasser only strengthened that imitator of Hitler.

Opening Nights: Rosalind Russell, one of the Golden Girls, glittered in "Auntie Mame" at the Broadhurst. It's a grand and glorious prank sparked by the star's mischief making. "Auntie Mame" will probably become our most popular grandma. The N.Y. Times' oracle (Mr. Atkinson) enthusiastically nominated Miss Russell for President. (Slogan: Roz for Prez!) . . . Overcame Obstacles

Piersall Speaks To Holy Name Group

By Leonard Randolph

SOME MEN walk a long, terrible road before they find their faith.

For others the strength of faith may be there within them almost at the beginning.

Yet, somewhere along the intricate paths Life puts before them, many men lose contact, bit by bit, with both reality and dream. Under the mounting tension of their jobs, sensitive strong men build a hard shell of resistance about them, many times, hiding their bewilderment and their fear.

When the shell becomes too thick, it begins to crumble and crack and peel away, powered into nothingness. The hull of the man left standing is naked and alone in an army of enemies.

If he is lucky he will have hands near him which may seem alien to him. Yet these hands can show him that his enemy is himself, his history, all that has gone before or is yet to be.

Out of this knowledge, sanity may be reborn. The corrosive clouds of fear may clear. With help the man learns to walk another kind of road — a road which leads him through the undergrowth of his own terror back to his mind and soul.

There are many things in modern life to indicate to us that this is the most painful road of all. It is beyond doubt the most difficult. And it takes a strong man to make the journey.

Such a man is James Anthony Piersall.

Jim Piersall is not the hero in an obscure tragedy by Eugene O'Neill. He is star center fielder for the Boston Red Sox, a baseball team which seems to have suffered through some rough roads on its own.

Yesterday Piersall was the main speaker at Communion Breakfast for Pocono Catholic Missions Holy Name Societies at Pocono Manor Inn. He is not much of an orator and he said so at the beginning. No one in the room really expected him to be. He was a baseball player who had dropped from the Red Sox roster briefly a few years back because he was mentally ill. His hospitalization tnd subsequent return to the active players' ranks is one of the genuinely inspiring stories of modern baseball.

Jimmy Piersall was born in Waterbury, Conn. on Nov. 14, 1929. His baseball career began in 1948 with the Scranton team in the Eastern League. He made a lot of friends there (including Fr. Robert Galligan of the Pocono Mission) and he married Mary Teevan, who was a nurse in the city. Yesterday he talked for a few minutes with some men from Scranton who had come to hear his speech and he remembered that "we had a good team then; we used to pull 15,000 people in on Sundays."

In 1949 he went to Louisville in the American Association; from there to Boston for the first time in 1950. He was back with Louisville the next year, then to Birmingham, then back to Boston. In 1952 Boston tried to switch Piersall from outfield to shortstop and third base.

He had played outfield through all his career to that point.

He had been one of the most popular players in the league. Gifted with a grin that splits the clean, sharp, handsome lines of his face and narrows his dark, glowing eyes, Piersall was a quick man with laughter and jokes or wisecracks, the experts say. Somewhere along the way, the laughter burned out. Jim Piersall entered a sanitarium for the mentally ill. After three months of treatment he was released. He went back to baseball again.

Out of his mental illness came Piersall's book. It is called "Fear Strikes Out." First made into a television play it will soon be produced as a motion picture.

From the speaker's table, Piersall gives an impression of great height and anyone who has watched his angular body break into a sudden, irregular sprint in the outfield will not be surprised to hear that he hunches his shoulders a little, leaning slightly on the lectern as tall men do. Talking to a large group of men he is a quiet, smiling, humorous speaker. It is odd, somehow, but you can overhear a conversation between Jim Piersall and another man at half a room's length more easily than you can hear distinctly each word of his formal talk.

He started off with strong praise for his roommate, Milt Bolling, who has a lot on the ball except that injuries keep holding him back, Piersall said. "I've had a little illness myself," he said. "But some things happen for the best."

Someone asked him once, he said, why he always made the sign of the cross when he stepped up to the plate. "God has always been kind to me. Just because I make the sign, I don't feel that I'll make a home run. That's not it. I feel it will help me do what I can do as well as I can."

There were several young boys in the audience and Piersall looked at them and said: "I'd like to tell you something. Get an education. The boy who's good at sports stands a good chance to go on to school. If you go into the majors you'll need something to fall back on. The scouts and the managers nowadays are pretty well educated. They know natural ability only goes so far."

He had been asked a couple of times whether "Don Larsen's new motion may help other pitchers." Larsen, who pitched the first perfect game in World Series history this year, is using an arrested windup throwing position which is a radical departure from tradition. Piersall said that he felt the delivery style could help pitchers like Bob Turley who depends on fastball delivery; for others, who depend on psychology and keeping the batter guessing, the use would be limited.

Abruptly, Piersall switched the theme of his talk to his own siege of mental illness, carefully prefacing it with the reminder that he did not intend to lecture on the subject and that he was "no expert." Gradually the theme of faith returned to his talk: "I've made some catches I didn't even know I had. Somebody had to drop that ball into my glove."

Today, everything in sports moves fast, he had said earlier. Without pointing a moral or drawing a conclusion, Jim Piersall began to drag the threads of what he had said together.

You run to make the catch in the outfield and you move fast; you can't help yourself sometimes because your eye is watching the ball and you drive every muscle and nerve in your body to get it.

"In baseball," he said, "sometimes the walls get close."

The way he said it, there was no melodrama in the statement. Only a few men in the room would have thought of the walls of a baseball stadium as a symbol, anyway.

Yet the symbol was there. And it was a strong one because it came from a man who had found himself trapped by walls he did not understand or know and had found the way around them.

Jim Piersall had the good fortune of psychiatric help and his own substantial faith.

It is a measure of the Truth within the man that he does not let anyone forget that on the road back he was never really alone.

IN TUNE WITH the current trend toward all-season air conditioning, this brand-new vest pocket Carrier Winter Weathermaker forced warm air furnace embodies an "air conditioning design" concept. It was developed for easy, economical adaptation to year-round use and is easily converted. In many cases, the simplified conversion can save the home owner an average of $150 in adding complete air conditioning in a typical house. Dealer for the Carrier Weathermaker in this area is Lawton Huffman, Craigs Meadow.

Nalplex Paint Is Different

NALPLEX is a new and different kind of latex paint by the makers of Dutch Boy Paints. It's made with acrylic latex, which means that it's really odorless. You can paint a bedroom and sleep in it within an hour without a trace of painty odor.

Nalplex dries very fast, but you can touch up any missed spots any time . . . even the next day . . . without being able to tell where it has been touched up.

It's completely washable, and it's easy to apply. There's no messy clean-up afterward. Simply wash your brush or roller with tap water and presto! It's clean! It's a true flat paint, too, and gives your walls "that decorator touch" no matter which of the lovely colors you choose.

If you'd like to know more about this remarkable new paint, Martin Vogt, manager of Pocono Paint-Up Center, will be glad to show you what it will do.

DeRenzis Urges Installation Of Aluminum Storm Windows

IF YOU'RE TIRED of taking down the screens every Fall, you ought to treat yourself to some aluminum storm windows.

But wait . . . a word of advice! There's no doubt about it: When you buy the kind of convenience and increased heating savings, which good storm windows offer, it won't be cheap.

Don't you think then that an investment of several hundred dollars warrants you to check . . . then compare before you buy?

If you do this before you buy your investment will be a lot more economical in the long run.

This is how Joseph G. DeRenzis and Son, distributors of Eagle-Picher storm enclosures, advise their customers.

They make only one request: "Let us show you Eagle-Picher before you buy."

Metal Tracks

Eagle-Picher Triple-Slide windows are equipped with Eraydo metal tracks, which is an Eagle-Picher exclusive, they point out.

Eraydo metal is a special zinc alloy, and is used in Eagle-Picher Triple-Slides because of its excellent self-lubricating qualities and proven service.

They also point out that proper engineering has eliminated troublesome calking from Eagle-Picher windows.

DeRenzis & Son stock over 40 different sizes for prompt installation. The firm, which is located in newly renovated quarters on N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, is FHA approved through a local bank and offers long-term financing.

Katz Offers Plumbing, Heating Units

A SPECIAL SERVICE for "do-it-yourself" enthusiasts is available at D. Katz & Sons Plumbing & Heating Division, Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg.

Robert H. Collins, manager of the P. & H. Division, announced the Katz firm is offering complete packaged units for new homes. Everything is included in the plumbing and heating line for a complete do-it-yourself installation.

He said Katz also offers free help and instructions so the new homeowner, who desires, can do the job himself. For others who desire, the Katz firm will handle the complete installation for them, he added.

Mr. Collins pointed out they are making available complete package units for bathrooms, warm air heating systems and hot water unit installations.

"No matter what your plumbing and heating needs—private homes, motel, hotel or factory—we invite you to give us a call," Mr. Collins said.

He noted the Katz grm represents some of the leading manufacturers in the plumbing and heating field: National Air Oil Products, American-Standard warm air heating, Koven "packaged" forced hot water heating units, Gerber, Richmond and American-Standard bathroom fixtures and Plastex plastic pipe.

Weathermaker Designed For Year 'Round

THE traditional role of the home heating unit as "just a furnace" is about to go the way of the Great Auk, a leading spokesman for the home comfort industry predicts.

According to Cloud Wampler, president of Carrier Corp., the nation's pioneer and largest air conditioning manufacturer, spectacular gains in complete home air conditioning are also bringing profound changes in the residential heating business.

From now on, he predicts, the key phase for furnace buyers will be "easy convertibility" to year-round comfort.

New Approach

In a word of caution to home owners who will be replacing their worn out forced air furnaces, Mr. Wampler urged this "new approach at the beginning when the heating system is installed".

In keeping with the concept, Carrier's chief executive revealed his company has introduced a completely new line of Winter Weathermaker forced warm air furnaces embodying an "air conditioning design" for simple and economical adaptation to year-round comfort in the home.

Local dealer for the Carrier Weathermaker's is Lawton Huffman, Craigs Meadow.

In some models Huffman's need only lift a removable cover on the furnace, slip in a cooling and dehumidifying coil, and connect it to an air-cooled condensing unit located outside in order to convert to year-round air conditioning.

Many of these furnaces can save the home owner an average of $150 in converting to complete air conditioning in the typical house, compared to the cost of adapting a standard furnace, Mr. Huffman points out.

Metropolitan Edison Lists New Power Combination Plan

LOCAL CUSTOMERS of the Metropolitan Edison Co., along with five million other users of electricity in a three-state area, yesterday begin sharing the benefits made available through the formation of a new "power pool" by eight electric companies in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland.

One of the principal benefits of the new interconnection is that the local power supply can be augmented at any time by power generated in 65 stations in a 48,000 square mile area, O. Titus, company president, said in announcing the new set-up. This is especially important in times of an emergency caused by a sudden break-down in local generating facilities. Electricity can be drawn from the pool up to limitations of transmission facilities as a result of what has been hailed nationally as an "outstanding forward step by these independent electric companies."

East Stroudsburg School Board Committee To Study Proposals On Scholarship Standards

ATHLETIC committee of East Stroudsburg Area Joint School Board meets tonight to study a proposal for less restrictive scholarship standards for athletes in the joint schools.

The proposal was submitted to the joint board last week by members of the Varsity E Club, an organization of alumni. It contains a detailed, 17-point outline of revisions which the club feels are needed.

Robert Wright, committee chairman, said last night that it will probably take more than one meeting to study the proposal thoroughly before the committee will make its recommendation to the joint board.

The next regular session to be held by the joint board will occur on Thursday, Dec. 6 — the first Thursday in the month. Wright said that it seemed likely that no proposal could be presented prior to that time since no special joint board meetings are scheduled.

East Stroudsburg's scholarship policy toward athletes has come under fire because Varsity E members and other persons in the community have expressed fear that there is a move on to "deemphasize" sports in the school system.

In his presentation of E Club proposals, Reg Nauman, club president, turned over resolution which asks the school to return to the more liberal academic rules of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association.

Such amove would make it possible for East Stroudsburg teams to compete on an "equal basis" with other PIAA schools, "If we are going to be members of the PIAA, then let's be members all the way," Nauman urged the board.

Unless this policy is adopted, the club said, then East Stroudsburg athletes should either be allowed to compete only with other schools having as strict scholastic requirements or the school should get out of interscholastic competition entirely and concentrate on intramural athletics.

Nauman told board members last Thursday night that the local joint district's standards are in complete disagreement with the PIAA ruling on scholarship. He said that an East Stroudsburg athlete is declared ineligible for sports if he fails more than one subject during one semester term or if he has not passed all subjects in the previous term.

PIAA rules require students to maintain a passing grade in at least three full-credit subjects during each current semester and to have passed at least three full-credit subjects during the previous semester.

The club president told board members that a junior varsity football player had been declared not eligible to play because he had flunked art. Nauman said he believed that art was not a full-credit course in the school.

Board members asked questions in the discussion which followed submission of the proposal from the club. Carl Secor, joint school superintendent, said that the athletic policy now in effect had been adopted by coaches and administrators on a trial basis. He said it is subject to change after proper study by the coaches and administrators involved as well as board members.

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Coming! America's first production dream car—it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite!

For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dream-book: a Keyboard Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

You'll see THE BIG M—the new Mercury for 1957—soon. You'll see it. You'll drive it. The first dream car that can be yours. The dynamite is on its way from Detroit to your dealer's—now!

A capacity crowd attended the cake walk and dance sponsored by the East Stroudsburg Band Mothers for the benefit of the uniform fund. The gymnasium was crowded, with more than 200 dance tickets being sold, and fifteen cases of soft drinks were soon exhausted, before the dancing started.

Mrs. Myrtle Kintner, president, announced that $228.04 had been cleared. She expressed her thanks to those who donated cakes and served in the cake rings, and to Robert Zellner who led the band in the absence of Clement Wiedinmyer. Wiedinmyer returned from a Philadelphia hospital on Friday, and was presented with a cake from the Band Mothers, who sent it to his home with flowers.

Saints Depicted In Halloween Party at Church

Brodheadsville — The annual Halloween party sponsored by the societies of Our Lady Queen of Peace Church was held Sunday at 5 p.m. for families and friends of the parish.

Children presented a skit "All Saints Pray For Us" which depicted the Christian meaning of Halloween. It was narrated by Barry Koslowski who gave the origin of Halloween as a religious festival celebrating the Eve of All Saints. Doughnuts, he explained, were a symbol of eternity with no beginning and no end.

The children wore costumes of the early Christian saints and gave short comments on their lives. Children were awarded prizes for the best performance and likewise to the saint they represented. Catherine Mondrick won first prize as St. Catherine; Nancy Schultz, second, as St. Ann; and May Kress, third, as St. Catherine Laboure.

Hubert Loetters won first prize as a bishop; Jeffrey Azure, second, as St. Jeffrey; and Edmund Koslowski, third, as St. Edmund. Judges were Esther Beckman, Bertha Held and Beverly Held.

Children and adults joined in Halloween games: ducking for apples, apples on a string, doughnut dunking contest and community singing.

A novelty: "Ist Das Nicht a Schnitzel-bunk," arranged by August Loetters and led by Ted Schultz, accompanied by Ed Koslowski and Ray Kress with accordion, scored a hit.

Tables and auditorium were decorated in harvest jackolanterns, corn stalks, ghosts and witches. In honor of the feast day of Christ The King, the main centerpiece was a cake baked in the shape of a book, with the words, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," surrounded by pictures of the saints.

A covered dish supper was served. The committee in charge was Dolly Azure, Peg Ortowski, Marge Mondrick, Alvina Scerbo, Marie Schultz, Rose Telpas, Ella Warnken, Ray Kress, August Loetters, Steve Mondrick, Ed Koslowski and Ted Schultz.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Painting—room, that is—is sort of like eating peanuts. Once started, it's practically impossible to stop until the peanut dish or the paint can is empty.

Which is why the United Nations delegates and I shared a nightmarish kind of a Saturday night that lasted into Sunday morning. With every fresh crises that arose I found that in my absorption I had started to paint new territory that had to be finished.

Anyway by the time they ran out of oratory and I ran out of paint, I had a definite fellow-feeling for them in our common exhaustion, and a desolate sense that it wasn't going to make too much difference whether the paint spots on the floor came off or not.

And after groping through the consequent Sunday haze of unreality, I greeted almost with relief the crowded calendar for this coming week which will allow little time for painting or for listening.

If we get the meals and do the work which has to be done, vote as intelligently as possible on Tuesday, and concentrate on such pleasant things as the fact that the sophomores won the sing contest at Cedar Crest and the sliver of a new moon slipping behind the hills on a perfect Fall evening, we'll be in much better shape to meet what comes than if we worry ourselves ragged.

Remind me to read this to myself this morning.

The Missionary Society will present a film "Christmas Through the Ages" at the meeting of the Grace Lutheran Altar Guild on December 11. THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

NO WONDER I didn't hear myself being paged over our store's amplifying system Friday. I was too absorbed in all the marvelous toys cramming the yards and yards of shelves running 'round and 'round our new toy store. "At last," our customers have enthused, "there's a REAL toy center in Stroudsburg." And Wyckoff's is, naturally, trying its utmost (and a WYCKOFF utmost is unbeatable) to fill the bill.

We've been mentioning the new store from time to time these past few weeks, but now everything is just about ready . . . except perhaps for assembling the impressive Lionel train layouts, and unpacking a few hundred more crates containing everything from dolls to xylophones. I noticed that Dottie Laubach looks a bit weary at this point . . . but I also observe that she is brimming over with enthusiasm, and that's a good sign. "It's all perfectly amazing to me," she tells you as she points out various entrancing bits of merchandise, "I have children of my own, but I've never even imagined toys such as these."

I agree with her. Never but never could I possibly have conceived the wide variety of trucks, for instance, that line one sizeable wall. There are transport trucks waiting to be loaded . . . hydraulic dump trucks that are fully automatic . . . caterpillar tractors . . . road graders . . . army trucks devised for all types of heavy duty . . . road scrapers . . . steam shovels . . . and concrete mixers that actually mix and pour. Many of these have rubber tires. There are robots too . . . one large enough to slip over a child's head so that he can have fun perplexing his family and playmates; another that operates and talks by remote control. There are knights in armor . . . galley ships . . . forts . . . service stations . . . double decker Greyhound buses . . . and hundreds of miniature Tootsie Toys, sold individually and in sets. This delightful series includes a car and ramp set as well as one devoted to road scraping.

Then there are pool tables, that are lightweight, collapsible for easy moving and storage, and very reasonably priced. Dottie tells me our customers have been frankly surprised when they discovered this is priced at less than 20.00. An electric pinball machine is another popular seller, and is priced at 24.95.

For the small children there are hobby horses at 9.95 with other more elaborate horses by Thayer still unpacked in the warehouse. There are doll carriages too in a size to fit every little mother's needs. Many of these bear the Thayer name, and look for all the world like real baby carriages, right down to the last detail. One stroller pleases Dottie particularly, because it has a saucy band of ball fringe around the hood. She calls this her "surrey with the fringe on top." Later, the two of us almost called a halt to work entirely, to spend the afternoon playing with an utterly charming four post doll bed that has a real Bates bedspread, colored sheets and pillow case, sturdy mattress, and a canopy of pink and white dotted swiss.

One of the prettiest rocking chairs I've ever seen is antiqued ivory with boy and girl figures and flowers painted in pastels. What's more, it plays music as it rocks, and the price is in the neighborhood of 10.00 — a chair to be treasured for generation after generation. There is a two color dinette set with chrome that little homemakers will adore, and the price is 19.95. The table top is a splattered pattern on plastic that's practical as anything could be, and the chrome chairs are upholstered in a choice of coral or blue.

And there are d-o-l-l-s, dolls, DOLLS in all sizes and manner of dress. There are stuffed toys too, and literally hundreds of games. One doll is not particularly happy. She is a "pouting baby" who scowls even though she's dressed like a rosebud in a wooly bunting, and has her very own plush teddy bear.

That's just a brief glimpse of our sensational, new WYCKOFF TOY STORE and every child's idea of paradise.

A MESSAGE TO MR. & MRS. THOUGHTFUL VOTER, YOUR DAUGHTERS AND YOUR SONS!

The matter of War versus Peace with Prosperity should have your attention this very day — and your considered action on November 6th.

Let's take a look at the record, for in it you always find the key to the future:

(1) Republican Eisenhower stopped the killing of our men and women in Korea.

(2) Republican Eisenhower kept us out of war in Red China.

(3) Democrat Truman got us into Korea by his own personal order. He did not consult Congress. Orders like that in Russia are giv- by only one man---a dictator. Have you followed the preachings of Democrat Stevenson? He sounds like Truman.

(4) If you want War, the Democrats will get one for you. No Democratic administration in this 20th century has failed to send your loved ones fighting on foreign soil! Look at the record:
(A) World War I -- 1917 -- Democrat Wilson.
(B) World War II -- 1941 -- Democrat Roosevelt.
(C) Korean War -- 1950 -- Democrat Truman.
In War the Democrats are batting with 1000% average!

(5) In the very difficult Middle East situation, Republican Eisenhower has kept his head . . . and us out of the shooting. Again, have you listened to Democrat Stevenson recently? Do you want to go into the Middle East and help Britain and France fight a war they themselves are making? The UN and the Republican Party will handle this situation with firmness, dignity and honor. Lets not become involved, again, to fight the other fellow's wars!

(6) In the record of the past you find the pattern of the future. You must make your own decision. You can have Peace with Dignity and a Republican Administration -- national and local -- if you so choose . . . or a potential Democrat War if you want it that way. The record of the Democrats in war for 40 years is plain. The odds against peace with a Democrat Party are too great for us to take!

Stroudsburg Notches Sixth Victory

Defeats Slatington, 13-6 On First Half Scoring Splurge

SLATINGTON — Stroudsburg High frustrated by fumbles and 15-yard penalties on several occasions did a turnabout-face and used the bobbles of Slatington High to good advantage here Saturday to down the Slaters 13-6.

The Mountaineers of John Whitehead shrugged off their own troubles and pulled out the stoppers to take a 13-0 halftime lead and then coast in to their sixth victory of the campaign. Stroudsburg has lost only twice.

With the Mountaineer line checking the Slaters at all turns in the first half (actually the host team didn't get past midfield in the first 24 minutes) Whitehead's offense with quarterback Ron Stopp, halfbacks Dick Cramsey, Noel Campbell and Ron Phillips and fullback Bill Bolich in the van kept penetrating deep into Slater territory only to have fumbles and the referee's whistle for rule infractions halt all but two of the bids.

Whitehead's defense which showed up well but once during the 48 minutes of play set up Stroudsburg's first score in the opening minutes.

Hawking the Slatington backs a la Eagles looking for prey, the Mountaineers forced Slatington back Gil Herzog to fumble on the third play of the game. George Steinhauer, who has come along impressively in the past three games, hopped on the loose pigskin and Stroudsburg was in business on the foes' 20.

Stopp Scores

With Ron Stopp calling the shots and Bolich and Phillips and Stopp streaking through the holes, the Mountaineers were across the goalline in nothing flat. Stopp picked up the TD, rolling out and diving through tackle to score standing up. Doug Shook made it 7-0 in favor of Stroudsburg seconds later when he booted one through the uprights.

For the remainder of the period and part of the second quarter, Stroudsburg was on the offense and Slatington on the defense. However, costly bobbles and untimely penalties nipped the Whiteheadmen at every turn.

But at one point in the second stanza Stroudsburg's offense which was stopping the host eleven before they could get started, forced the Slaters to give up the ball again when Bill Rauch fumbled and the Mountaineers recovered on the Slaters' 17.

This time, unlike the other threats that fizzled, Stopp and his horde of backs went all the way. Phillips, Bolich, Campbell and Stopp took turns to the three before fullback Bolich ripped through guard from the three for the 13th marker.

Penalty Over Kick

Doug Shook made it 14-0 but a penalty infraction cancelled the true conversion. On the second try Shook's aim was off its mark.

With the field resembling a pig pen after the first half churning of Mountaineer backs and Slatington's perpetual dig ins, both Stroudsburg and their opponents had their troubles during the second half.

However, immediately following the intermission Slatington mustered enough power and its only serious attack to saunter 88 yards after Larry Buzzard's kickoff was downed on the Slater 12.

A 35-yard aerial from Herzog to Claude Mack was the big gain in the march that got to the 7 from of Mountaineers seven before Mike Valora circled end for the TD and the day's final score.

The final period was back and forth affair with neither eleven giving out with any serious threat.

Tuneup For Kids

The contest served as a tuneup for the Mountaineers who meet undefeated, untied and unextended Northampton High at Gordon Giffels this Saturday afternoon.

Slatington, winless in eight tries this year but owners of two deadlocks will try to get into the victory column against Wilson Borough High here at Victory Park Saturday.

Robinson Set For Bout At Providence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIDDLEWEIGHT Champion Ray Robinson's return to action in a nontitle "tuneup" match at New Haven highlights this week's boxing program.

Two busy little featherweights, Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico and Flash Elorde of the Philippines, meet in a Friday rematch at Madison Square Garden in one of the week's better fights. Berrios, one of the most active boxers in the business, won a split decision in their first meeting at San Francisco, Aug. 22.

Because of the Republican convention, the first Berrios-Elorde match never did go on TV but his second stanza will be carried on NBC Radio and TV.

Wednesday Go

Isaac Logart of Havana, another steady on the TV screen, boxes Duke Harris of Detroit, a newcomer to the welterweight rankings, in the Wednesday show at Chicago Stadium, (ABC-TV). Logart is highly rated in the 147-pound class despite his recent defeat by Gaspar Ortega at Boston. In Harris' latest start he outpointed Ramon Fuentes.

The Monday card from St. Nicholas Arena in New York again features heavyweights, Wayne Bethea of New York and Howard Turner of Brooklyn. It will be Turner's main event debut after 21 prelim starts for a 17-1-3 record. Bethea takes a six-fight win streak into the bout that will be seen on TV (Dumont) in some sections of the country.

First Since Bobo

Robinson's over-the-weight match will be against Bob Provizzi of Freeland, Pa. at New Haven on Saturday. It will be Sugar Ray's first appearance since he knocked out Bobo Olson the second time, May 18. Robinson defends against Gene Fullmer, Dec. 12 at the Garden.

Ewart Potgeiter, the 7-2, 320-pound South African giant who has retired and "unretired" a half dozen times, was to appear Thursday at Boston against one Jeff Dyer of Springfield, Mass. Dyer reportedly is a 230-pounder. The Massachusetts Boxing Commission, however, found him unfit and refused to sanction the bout.

Hans Stretz, the German light heavy who was ranked top high in the latest ring ratings, boxes Uruguay's Dogomar Martinez at Montevideo in a Tuesday show.

GRID CAREER on the collegiate field ends for Jon Arnett, the brilliant Southern California halfback, as he has used up his eligibility after five games.

Bear Attacks Zoo Keeper

SEOUL, Nov. 4 (AP) — A three-year-old black bear attacked and seriously injured an attendant in the Seoul zoo yesterday.

The animal — a gift from U. S. Gen. Maxwell Taylor during the Korean War — was shot to death by a Korean military policeman visiting the zoo.

Eskimos Baffled By White Men

QUEBEC, Nov. 2 (AP) — An airline pilot reports Eskimos are baffled by some of the things white men do in the arctic, such as digging holes through 10 feet of ice when nobody's going to fish.

Capt. Gerald Lester MacInnis, telling about the Eskimos' bewilderment, explained the holes were dug along Canada's radar line to see whether the ice was thick enough to permit planes to land.

Les Dye, Syracuse University freshman football coach, formerly played with the Washington Redskins.

Lock Haven Booters Snap ESSTC Streak Via 1-0 Win

EAST STROUDSBURG TEACHERS' dreams of an unbeaten soccer campaign went up in smoke Saturday when Lock Haven STC handed the Warrior booters their first setback of the season.

A goal by Jim Addis with nine minutes gone in the third period held up and gave Lock Haven a 1-0 triumph over the proteges of John Eiler before a better than average crowd on the Normal Hillers' field.

Now at 5-1

The victory was the fourth in six matches for the Bald Eagles, while the loss gave the Warriors a 5-1 mark.

East Stroudsburg threatened continually throughout the contest. In the second half, Eagle goalie Bill Morgan made no less than 10 saves of Warrior advances toward the visitors net. Aside these penetrations, ESSTC had many drive boots go right and left of the intended mark.

Head Goal

Lock Haven's goal was one of those hit-or-miss shots with Addis using his head for a skip move that just evaded the outstretched hands of Warrior goalie Tom D'Armi.

ESSTC winds up its '56 season Wednesday when they host Trenton STC on Normal Hill in a 3 p. m. duel.

The lineups:

| ESSTC | Pos. | Lock Haven |
|---|---|---|
| D'Armi | G | Morgan |
| Zintel | RF | Leonard |

Umpire Conlon 'Overruled' By Jap Fans

OSAKA, Japan, Nov. 4 (AP)—National League umpire was overruled here for one of the few such incidents in history, the Brooklyn Dodgers disclosed today.

Umpire Jocko Conlon of Chicago called Saturday's exhibition game at the end of the sixth inning because of darkness and a light drizzle. But nearly 40,000 fans sat tight and occasionally shouted "Yaro" (play ball!).

After 20 minutes of talk between Dodger and Japanese officials the game was resumed.

Too Costly

Conlon told a reporter today he called the game after asking in vain to have the lights turned on. The Japanese officials said the Koshien Stadium, Japan's largest, is never used at night after Sept. 30 and the price of getting the electricity restored would be prohibitive.

So the game continued in semi-darkness. After winning the argument the Japanese lost the game, 14-7.

Soviet Athletes Dock Thursday

MELBOURNE, Nov. 4 (AP) The vanguard of the Russian Olympic forces approached Melbourne by ship and air tonight while former citizens of Hungary, Poland and other iron curtain countries here staged new demonstrations denouncing what they called the "satanic rule" of the Soviets.

The Russian Olympic Games Ship, Gruz'a, ended a mysterious week-long radio silence and reported by radio it would dock on Thursday — six days behind schedule.

Tension Heavy

Tensions continued heavy as Olympic officials feared possible demonstrations against the Russians on their arrival.

Exterminator carried 132 pounds when he won the Laurel Handicap at the age of 7 in 1922.

Bears Post 5th

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4 (AP)—Two pass interceptions set up the winning touchdown for the Chicago Bears today as they whipped the Los Angeles Rams 35-24 for their fifth straight victory in the national Football League.

TOKYO, Nov. 4 (AP) — Thousands of songbirds have deserted the trees circling the imperial palace moat.

Cortland TD In 2nd Quarter Tops Martin's Warriors, 7-0

CORTLAND, N.Y. — East Stroudsburg State Teachers College's once high and mighty football team went down to its second straight defeat here Saturday as Cortland STC pinned a 7-0 non-league setback on the Warriors.

Cortland, which thwarted three ESSTC penetrations within the 13-yard line, struck for the game's only score in the second period.

Roger Kane, a reserve quarterback, tallied Cortland's TD when he climaxed a 42-yard drive by going around right end on a keep play from five yards out. Tony Guido made it 7-0 by booting the pigskin through the standards.

East Stroudsburg, which had a five-game winning streak snapped by West Chester 10 days ago, just couldn't dent their hosts goal line as Cortland's tight land and overhead defense turned back thrust after thrust of the visitors.

Mixing passing with the fine running of substitute backs Ken Huber and Dick Merkle, the charges of Eugene Martin swept three times downfield to the Cortland's 13, 12 and 12. However, on each bid, the stout forward wall of Cortland nipped in the bud the Warrior surge.

A few times the vaunted aerial moves of the Martinmen. Once in the first period a 20-yard pass from quarterback Jim Oplinger to Ed Adams brought ESSTC just short of midfield. However, the short spurt petered out moments later when two tosses went over the heads of intended receivers.

Chance In Second

East Stroudsburg also had a big chance in the second when they drove to the 12 on short dashes and a pass from Guido DiTorrice to Oplinger. But again the march was halted as two end zone passes and a pair of running thrusts failed.

Now At 5-2

The Warriors now own a 5-2 record, while, by winning, Cortland ended the season with a 4-3-1 mark.

East Stroudsburg returns to Pennsylvania Teachers College Football Conference warfare this Saturday when they take on Cheyney STC on Normal Hill. The Martinmen, 4-1 in the loop, hold down second place prior to last Saturday's PTCFC games.

Port Jervis Back Difference; Frank Lupin Races 67 Yards

PORT JERVIS, N. Y. — A tank-line fullback, built along the lines of a fire plug, turned East Stroudsburg High from a probable winner into a loser Saturday as he powered Port Jervis High to a 26-18 triumph over the Cavaliers here.

Jack Kist's Eastburg eleven spotted Port Jervis a 13-0 lead and then roared back to actually take a 18-13 third period edge before finally succumbing to the bull-like rushes of Port's meal ticket Vince Pagano.

Pagano only scored one TD —the clinching TD in the fourth quarter — but the 5-5, 215-pound fullback, who doesn't have to run close to the ground, ripped the Cavalier line to shreads as he picked up yards in fistfulls to send Kist's eleven down to its fourth defeat in eight games. The win was the third in six games for Port Jervis. The New Yorkers were tied once.

While Pagano grabbed all the glory, and rightfully so, it took a Cavalier — Frank Lupin — to pull off the game's longest run. Lupin, with the locals trailing 13-6, scooped up a Jervis fumble on the New Yorkers 33 and raced 67 yards to paydirt to get Kist's boys back into the ball game at halftime, 13-12.

Port went into a 6-0 lead midway in the opening period when Russ Devore, an able quarterback and a more consistent passer, collaborated with Pagano to pace their mates 66 yards to a TD. A Devore aerial to Bob Boyd ate up 11 yards and two Pagano rushes netted 15 before Devore tossed to Jim Decker and the Port end gobbled in the ball on the Eastburg 25 and romped to the rest of the way untouched.

Take 13-0 Lead

Jervis grabbed a 13-0 bulge right after the second period began when they marched behind Pagano's rams 58 yards before Duke Malzahn climaxed the drive by plunging over from the one. Pagano converted for the 13th tally.

Eastburg came alive at this point and took the ensuing kickoff and covered the length of the field. Cork Smith pulled in the toe-blast and streaked from his own 18 to the Cavaliers 44 before being hauled down from behind.

On the first down, Frank Lupin hit Roger Ray with a pass which covered 27 yards before the Eastburg back was on the Port 29. Here Ray swivel-hipped his way to the 17 for a first before being thrown out of bounds and injured on the fine run.

Carter Scores

Smith cross-bucked his way to the four and Don Miller hulled to the one from where diminitive back, Ralph Carter, sneaked over. Bob Stine's try for the 7th Eastburg point was no good.

Lupin, who still shows signs of an injured knee, pulled his mates up by the bootstraps later in the period when he scooped up Pagano's fumble on the Port 33 and streaked 67 yards along the Port sidelines on the TD which moved Kist's team to within one point, 13-12, at the halftime intermission.

Eastburg In Van

The Cavaliers got the lead for the first time, and only time, shortly after the third canto began when alert tackle Ed Yakencheck roared through the Port line and gobbled up a misfired Devore lateral on the Port 12 and ambled into the end zone for Eastburg's 18th tally. The Cavaliers' attempted pass for the extra point was off its mark and the Kistmen led only, 18-13.

The Eastburg five-point edge held up until the waning moments of the third when Pagano personally led the Ports on two deep marches to within the shadow of the Cavalier goal before Bill Kulkulka ripped over on the final assault from the one for the TD which gave the host eleven a 19-18 advantage. Pagano made it 20-18 when he split the uprights.

Port Jervis got what proved to be the clincher midway in the fourth canto when they marched 70 yards in eight plays. Pagano ate up 48 of the drive and a Devore to Decker aerial covered 11 before the "human tank" bulled the last 12 for the TD, running over four Cavaliers enroute. He missed the extra point but as it turned out it wasn't needed anyway.

Pen Argyl Defense Combines With Attack For 13-0 Win

PEN ARGYL—Pen Argyl High put together a superlative defense with two touchdown marches to gain a 13-0 victory over Hellertown High here at Weona Memorial Park Saturday.

Working behind a stout forward wall that limited the visiting Panthers to a net gain of 53 yards on the ground, the Green Wave of Rudy Penza smashed over for a touchdown in the first period and added the clincher in the third to post its second win in seven outings this season. The loss was Hellertown's fouth in eight games.

Take 7-0 Edge

Pen Argyl took a lead it never relinquished in the first period when Green Wave backs Jim Sandercock, Dick Rumsey, Carl Bone lashed 22 yards on power plays to the Hellertown 18 before a Ron Shipman pass to end Ed Lugg brought them to the 11.

Substitute backs Dom Bet and Marlin Smickley did the rest. Bet going to the five and Smickley streaking off tackle the remaining distance. Rumsey split the uprights for the 7th point.

The Green Wave upped the margin to 13-0 in the third quarter when they drove 40 yards following the recovery of a Hellertown bobble.

Races 33 Yards

Rumsey and Bet pummeled to the 33 before Bone, on a third down situation, took a pitchout from Shipman and skirted his own left end, reversed his field and raced 33 yards into the end zone. Rumsey's try for the extra point misfired this time.

Hellertown never could get started as Green Wave linemen Lugg, Frutchey, Cappizola, Parsons, Reto, Schlegel, Ruggiero, kept them tied up in knots all afternoon.

Northampton Power Sinks Bangor, 65-0

BANGOR—Facing a football juggernaut that has run roughshod over seven previous opponents on Saturday afternoon, at the Bangor Memorial Park, Bangor High's eleven were torn to pieces by the Konkrete Kids of Northampton High to the tune of 65 to 0.

Amassing the greatest number of points scored on a Bangor combine in the history of football in the Slate Belt school, the Northampton "Dream" eleven of Coach Al Erdosy was merciless as the first team combination played all but the final four minutes of the contest.

Northampton enjoying one of its greatest years in football, playing with a largely all senior combine of some 24 players, eyed by every collegiate football power in the nation, had far too much on the ball for the maroon and white, which has been playing a season of hard luck, a below average in experience and a thin squad composed mostly of sophomores.

In running his score to 65 counters, Erdosy gave the Slaters the worst beating in its 40 years of football history. Only one other team ever shellacked the Slaters to the degrees that it was poured on Saturday, an dthat was the National Farm School of Doylestown back in 1926, when that school, now the National Agricultural College, slammed the Maroon 61 to 0. Catasauqua came close to the point also in 1928 when they downed the Slaters 52 to 0.

Scores 29 Points

Bobby Reimer, a stream-lined, smooth running back, was the big point producer for the Kids, as he garnered 29 points for the afternoon. He ran four touchdowns, the longest of which was 75 yards and made five out of nine points via the placement route. Picking his running mates for a wall of interference, moving with rapidity wherever he went, Reimer looked like the "Back of the Year" as far as the Bangor defenses were concerned.

Northampton ground out a net of 445 yards in rushing while the Slaters totalled 87. In first downs it looked a little better as Northampton totalled 16 and Bangor 10.

First Quarter

Reimer made his initial score of the afternoon on a 17 yard end run following a seven play, 81 yard march of his teammates after receiving Bangor's opening kick-off. He also added the extra point.

After an exchange of the pigskin Northampton gained possession and this time went 85 yards to paydirt, climaxed by Reimer's 22 yard run for touchdown. He failed on the bonus point.

Bangor took to the air following the kickoff only to have Joe Miksits pick off the pass and run for 28 yards and another Kids score to close the first quarter attack.

Second Quarter

The visitors added 26 points in the second quarter as they continued their parade of touchdowns. Charlie Hoffman passed for 33 yards to John Grabaritis to cap a six-play, 73-yard drive, followed by a 25 yard bootleg run by Hoffman for the counter. Reimer again missed the extra point.

Bangor took the ensuing kickoff but could not get moving and J. L. Williams got off a nice punt. However Bob Reimer took it on his own 27 yard line waited for interference, got the wall he needed and went 73 yards to score again. He failed again for the bonus.

A few plays later, Bangor fumbled, and Gerald Farkes recovered for the victors, on the Bangor 34. Hoffman made five yards, then faking a hand off found Grabarits in the open, and pitched a strike to the end who went the distance. Reimer placekicked the extra point. The half time curtain was rung down as Charlie Shimer ran 30 yards for another Northampton score after Bangor had lost possession on its own 38 yard line. The score at half time was Northampton 45 Bangor 0.

Third Quarter

With the Northampton first string still operating at full blast, after taking possession of the ball, they scored to open the second half. Bangor fumbled on the Northampton 42 and the victors recovered. Shimer climaxed the drive from the two yard line by driving into the end zone and Reimer added the extra point.

Bangor showed some spark after the kickoff and marched 48 yards through the Northampton platoons to the victors 5 and a first down only to have the effort fizzle on the 12. Bangor finally got possession on its own 19 only to fumble again and have the Kids recover. Hoffman went around end on the next play to score for Northampton again. Reimer booted successfully and the score was 59 to 0.

Fourth Quarter

Northampton's final score came in the last quarter following a Bangor bobble. Taking over on the Bangor 48, Tyronne Kneller made dashes of 17 and 7 yards to be capped by a 28 yard touchdown jaunt by Lennie Breitfeller. Miksits missed the extra point. Bangor again got an offensive moving, carried for 51 yards only to have the time run out and the game end as they had moved to the Northampton 25 yard line.

VETERANS . . .

Think What It Means To You And Your Family

VOTE EISENHOWER

CONTINUE THE BEST MAN FOR YOUR BEST INTERESTS

- He has now proven his statements ---he does not want a shooting war ---but feels that international accord is possible by peaceful means.
- He believes the draft should be continued--- to train more and more men to assure our readiness and preparedness to maintain the peace---otherwise---Vets who have done their duty will be called upon to go again, in case of any emergency.
- Practically every veteran who is able-bodied and has a willingness to work is now employed under better conditions and at higher wages than at any other time in our history.
- Not only does the Republican party have a strong veterans platform plank to guarantee veterans interests, but President Eisenhower's personal pledge backs it up because he believes in it.

$600 Damage In Accident

MOUNTAINHOME—Some $600 damage was caused early Saturday morning in a two-car collision on Route 390 in front of the Mountainhome Diner.

State Police identified the drivers involved as Donald F. Case, 17, of Canadensis, and John Milawskas, 25, Buck Hill Falls. Although both drivers escaped injury, Milawskas' wife, Barbara, suffered a bruise of the head when she fell against the windshield in the impact.

Case was pulling into the highway from the diner parking lot when his car was in collision with the northbound Milawskas auto, troopers said.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, substract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

If You're Handy
Read On . . .
Normally we spend time and money on our used cars before offering them for sale. This time we're not. But if you like to putter and do-it-yourself (while saving money) here are two bargains:

'53 Dodge V-8 Coronet
A one-owner car with 34,932 miles. It has white wall tires and snow tires on the back. Radio, heater, and the interior is good. The engine is in fine shape. Put some paint on the trunk, new parking light, and straighten the front fender a bit and she'll be perfect. Average retail price on this model is $825.

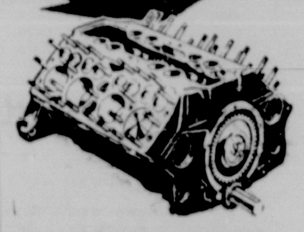

Handy Man's Special
$495

'51 Nash Statesman
Three months ago this car went out of our showroom a gleaming black beauty that had been extremely well kept. Now it's a repossession. The former "owner" didn't harm the folding bed, overdrive, or detract from the excellent riding qualities. But the hood doesn't close well, the body is wrinkled in spots, and the tires are getting bald. She's had a bad three months.

State Police Search For Two Youths

LEHIGHTON — State Police have begun a search for two area teenagers, one a new arrival from England.

Troopers identified the missing as Harland Dorward, 16, of Lehighton, RD 3, and Margaret Ann Bennett, 15, of 204 Delaware Ave., Palmerton.

Although both were last seen about 9 p.m., Saturday, State Police have not yet determined if there is any connection between the two cases. They are checking that possibility.

Palmerton

Margaret Ann, who arrived from England a month ago, was last seen at 9 p.m. Saturday in Palmerton. She is five-foot-two, weighs 140 pounds and has brown hair and eyes. She was wearing a black speckled coat with a white and black collar.

Dorward was last seen at a dance in Lehighton at 9.40 p.m., Saturday. He is five-foot-nine, weighs 140 pounds, blue eyes and a fair complexion. He was wearing a black cloth jacket with pink paneling, tan trousers and black shoes.

State Police have sent out a teletype on both teen-agers.
